

Annual Report for Radiologists

One of the largest medical associations in the world, RSNA represents the radiology profession in both research and practice. We found opportunity to improve their annual report from a text heavy document to an engaging, visually oriented report that highlighted 6 major achievements using full page hero images and clear, concise oversized messages. The idea came from the realization that radiology is a very visual medicine.

