

Corporate Brand Program for Orthopaedic Executives

AAOE provides financial and management professionals networking and educational opportunities to improve their business. Experiencing turnover of existing members and slumping engagement within new audiences, BDi rebranded the organization to better represent its constituents, retain current members, and attract new membership. Turnover has greatly diminished and involvement grew dramatically based on association data.

